PROGRAMS

The Kellogg School offers the following degree programs:

TWO-YEAR PROGRAM (2Y)

Students in the Two-Year MBA Program attend classes over three quarters (fall, winter and spring) during two academic years. Students typically pursue internships during the summer following their first year.

ONE-YEAR PROGRAM (1Y)

The One-Year MBA Program is an accelerated MBA program for candidates who have clear and consistent career goals and who have completed the requisite coursework either through undergraduate or graduate institutions. While most 1Y students have undergraduate business degrees, the 1Y program is open also to candidates with undergraduate degrees in other subjects. All candidates must have graduated within the last seven years and must have completed an accounting course and courses in at least five of the following subjects: finance, marketing, operations, statistics, economics and organizational behavior.

Once enrolled, students may complete the 7th course (not for credit) either during the summer quarter or as an additional class during the fall quarter at our downtown Chicago campus through the Kellogg Part-Time MBA Program. The Student Affairs Office will determine the schedule for these courses depending on timing and availability, and the Office of Admissions will determine who is eligible to take each course on a case-by-case basis by reviewing transcripts and work experience. Preference is given to those who fulfill the academic eligibility requirements. Candidates should submit supporting information to the Office of Admissions to determine eligibility prior to applying and include the phrase "1Y Eligibility" with their application.

Because the 1Y program does not include a summer internship, candidates who are academically qualified for the program but who are interested in a significant industry or career change may find the 2Y program to be more appropriate for their needs. For full consideration for the 1Y program, students should submit completed applications to the Office of Admissions by the Jan. 11 deadline.

The Office of Admissions welcomes questions about 1Y eligibility.

MASTER OF MANAGEMENT AND MANUFACTURING (MMM)

The MMM curriculum focuses on what managers need to know to lead product- and service-driven companies to world-class performance through technology. Students master the core topics of the Kellogg School's renowned management program as well as key operating and design topics at McCormick, one of the country's leading engineering schools. Students receive two degrees: the master of business administration (MBA) from Kellogg and the master of engineering management (MEM) from McCormick. Within the MBA curriculum, students can major in any subject, including popular choices such as finance, marketing or strategy. In addition, the MEM curriculum offers a choice of two majors: Operations or Design and Innovation. In just two years, MMM students earn two degrees with one set of curricular requirements. For more information on the MMM program, please visit mmm.northwestern.edu.

JURIS DOCTOR-MASTER OF BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION (JD-MBA)

Recognizing the intersection of the fields of law and business, Northwestern University's JD-MBA program provides students with a thorough grounding in management and the law. Candidates for the JD-MBA program must complete the integrated Kellogg application (available at jdmba.northwestern.edu/jdadmissions.htm beginning Fall 2007). A separate School of Law application is not required. Individuals interested in the JD-MBA should state their interest when requesting an interview. Chicago-area JD-MBA applicants may interview on campus with a member of the Admissions Committee. Applicants must take the Graduate Management Admissions Test (GMAT); the LSAT is not required but may be submitted. For more information on the JD-MBA program, please visit jdmba.northwestern.edu.

OTHER DUAL-DEGREE PROGRAMS

MBA students occasionally complete dual-degree programs with other schools within Northwestern University. Candidates must apply and gain admission to each program separately. For additional information, please contact the Office of Admissions.

COMPLETING THE APPLICATION

To be considered for admission, a candidate must submit a complete application including all supporting documents. (Refer to the Application Checklist for details.) If there is a possibility that admissions materials may be submitted under a surname other than the one you have used on your application, please notify the Office of Admissions.

ONLINE APPLICATIONS

All applications must be submitted through the Kellogg School's online application service.

When submitting the application using our online service, candidates are responsible for completing the entire application, including scanning and uploading all transcripts. Admitted candidates must be prepared to submit official copies of all transcripts prior to enrollment. Candidates may also mail hard copies of their transcripts to Kellogg in one envelope to this address:

Office of Admissions
Kellogg School of Management
Northwestern University
Donald P. Jacobs Center
2001 Sheridan Road
Evanston, IL 60208-2001
U.S.A.

RE-APPLICATIONS

Any candidate who has previously applied to the Kellogg School must submit a new application. However, because we retain applications for two years, there is no need to resubmit academic transcripts and GMAT or TOEFL score reports if the scores are still valid. In addition, only one Career Progress Survey (CPS) is needed for a re-applicant. This CPS must be from a different recommender than in previous applications. Lastly, the evaluative interview is not required if one has been completed within the past 18 months, though candidates may re-interview if they wish. If you would like to use your interview from your previous application, please e-mail ksm-ao@kellogg.northwestern.edu. Only re-applicants will be granted a second interview within any 18-month period. Re-applicants should follow all other instructions as if applying for the first time.

VERIFICATION

All applicants to the Kellogg School of Management are expected to represent themselves honestly in all parts of the application. The Department of Admissions reserves the right to fact-check applications. Admitted applicants may be required to pay a nominal fee to support such a check.

ADMISSION POLICIES

The Kellogg School requires that the information contained in your application is completely accurate and exclusively your own. The school may revoke any offer of admission if any part of the application is found to be false or misleading.

ELIGIBILITY

Prospective students holding a bachelor's or equivalent degree from an accredited college or university are eligible to apply. Prior study in business or economics is not a requirement for admission, but much of the coursework in the Kellogg curriculum requires quantitative skills, so students are encouraged to complete introductory courses in calculus and statistics prior to attending.

Candidates will be considered for only one program in any given year: One-Year, Two-Year, Master of Management and Manufacturing or JD-MBA.

CRITERIA FOR ADMISSION

The Admissions Committee evaluates each applicant's scholastic ability, personal character, motivation, leadership ability, interpersonal skills, career performance and management potential. The committee reviews the personal essays, academic record, GMAT score, Career Progress Surveys, résumé, evaluative interview report and TOEFL (if applicable) to assess each applicant's candidacy compared to the pool of applicants.

The committee also values full-time professional experience. Work experience demonstrates maturity and fosters career- and self-awareness, which contribute to a student's success. The committee evaluates an applicant's potential through careful review of experience and accomplishments in work settings, including military service, and extracurricular activities.

INTERNATIONAL CANDIDATES

Each year, Kellogg receives applications from candidates from more than 90 countries. International applicants should know:

They must apply by the Jan. 11 deadline.

The above criteria for admission pertain to all candidates. Candidates must have a college-level education equivalent to a four-year baccalaureate degree from the United States.

The visa application process generally requires two months.

International candidates who desire a career in the United States should recognize that few opportunities are available without a work visa. Most corporations in the United States will not employ individuals who have a training period remaining on their student visas unless an employment offer has been made by a foreign office. For more information about visas, please visit Northwestern University's international student Web site: northwestern.edu/international.

APPLICATION COMPONENTS

EVALUATIVE INTERVIEWS

The Admissions Committee requires every applicant to request an evaluative interview. Interviews with a member of the Admissions staff, student admissions counselors or the Kellogg School's Alumni Admissions Organization (AAO) are conducted throughout the year. Interviews allow candidates to learn more about Kellogg. The interview is also an opportunity for the Admissions Committee to further evaluate an applicant's level of maturity, interpersonal skills, career focus and motivation. However, the interview is only one criterion used in the admission decision.

The interview is an independent assessment. The application is never reviewed by the interviewer. Each applicant must bring a current résumé to his or her interview. All interviews will be conducted in English.

Applicants requesting an off-campus interview will be notified of their assignment by e-mail after Part I of the Kellogg application has been received by the Office of Admissions. Please note: Candidates should wait two business days after submitting Part I of the application to call to schedule their interviews. Submitting Part I before the off-campus interview request deadline is strongly recommended and allows for interview requests to be processed in a timely manner. During peak season (November through March), expect to receive the interview assignment up to six weeks after the Office of Admissions receives Part I of the application.

Members of the AAO are located in most metropolitan areas around the world. Candidates interviewing off campus will be notified by the Office of Admissions whom to contact for their alumni interview. The Office of Admissions will make every effort to assign an alumni interview to each candidate. However, in cases of unusually heavy demand or remote location, candidates may be offered an interview by invitation only or receive an interview waiver. Waivers have no negative impact on candidacy. Each year, many applicants who receive waivers are admitted to Kellogg. The Admissions Committee reserves the right to contact candidates directly to seek additional information regarding their candidacy during the application process.

On-campus interviews are conducted Monday through Friday year-round, and also on Saturdays from late fall to early spring. On-campus interviews typically last 30 minutes.

Chicago-area applicants must interview off campus, but are encouraged to visit the Kellogg School.

ACADEMIC TRANSCRIPTS

Kellogg requires that applicants provide official transcripts from all colleges, universities and professional schools previously or currently attended. Transcripts are examined not only for the grade-point average, but also for trends and areas of particular scholastic strength.

- Transcripts for study-abroad programs are required only if the grades are not included on the transcript of the degree-granting institution.

- Each transcript must be written in English or accompanied by an official translated copy
- While we accept hard copies of transcripts, Kellogg strongly encourages candidates to submit transcripts through the online application service. Electronic submission of transcripts expedites the processing of applications. Each candidate should be prepared to submit official copies of his or her transcript along with the enrollment deposit if admitted to Kellogg.
- It is strongly recommended that transcripts submitted in hard copy via mail be accompanied by the Academic Transcript Request Form.

GRADUATE MANAGEMENT ADMISSION TEST (GMAT)

All applicants are required to submit a valid GMAT score. Scores are valid for five years. Information about the GMAT is available at mba.com. The Graduate Record Examination (GRE) is not accepted.

The GMAT code for Kellogg is 6WZ-3J-89.

Candidates must request that scores be sent to Kellogg. We recommend that candidates keep an official copy of GMAT scores. Allow three weeks for Kellogg to receive the scores.

CAREER PROGRESS SURVEY (CPS)

The CPS serves as a recommendation letter to Kellogg. Two completed CPS forms are required for admission.

Ideally, one of these letters of recommendation, or Career Progress Surveys (CPS), should be written by a current supervisor or manager. The second letter of recommendation should be from someone who can evaluate the applicant's professional performance as well as their managerial and leadership potential (e.g. a former supervisor, previous employer, client, etc.). If applicants are unable to ask a current supervisor or manager for a letter of recommendation, they should include a brief statement regarding the choice in the Additional Information section of Part II of the application.

The application is not considered complete until Kellogg has received both CPSs. Submitting the CPS through the school's online application is encouraged.

Additional letters of support are neither required nor encouraged.

To ensure that the recommenders can be contacted, please apprise the Office of Admissions of any changes to their contact information.

TEST OF ENGLISH AS A FOREIGN LANGUAGE (TOEFL)

Proficiency in reading, writing and speaking English is required of all Kellogg students. Classes and group work demand strong English language skills. A valid score for the TOEFL is required for all non-U.S. citizens and non-U.S. permanent residents with a degree from an undergraduate university where English was not the language of instruction. The Office of Admissions also reserves the right to request a TOEFL if deemed necessary. TOEFL scores are valid for two years.

The TOEFL codes for Kellogg are: 02-department code; 1565-institution code

APPLICATION FEE

Candidates using the online application remit payment electronically with the application and should not send the fee directly to Kellogg.

ADMISSION DECISIONS

Each applicant will receive an admissions decision electronically on or before the decision date designated for his or her application deadline. To ensure confidentiality, decisions are not released over the phone. A non-refundable enrollment deposit of U.S. $1,000 will be due on the date listed on the application timetable.

Applications are processed and decisions are issued throughout each decision period. Therefore, opportunities for financial aid and housing may decrease in the last decision period.

ADMITTED STUDENT WEEKENDS

Our admitted student weekends, Day at Kellogg (DAK), provide an exciting opportunity for admitted students to experience life at Kellogg, to meet current students and to get answers to their questions about academic and student life. Students attend mini-classes taught by Kellogg professors and learn more about career services, housing, financial aid and student clubs.

Attending one of these events is one of the best ways for applicants to make the right decision about where to earn their MBA. The Kellogg culture is well known, but DAK is the best way to experience it first-hand. Even if applicants have visited Kellogg before, DAK is a valuable experience.

There are two Day at Kellogg weekends, Feb. 15–17, 2008, and April 18-20, 2008. Because space is limited, admitted students are encouraged to register early.

DEFERRAL POLICY

Candidates should apply for admission for the year in which they plan to enroll. Requests for deferrals from admitted applicants must be submitted in writing and are considered individually. Very few are granted. If granted a deferral, a candidate must pay a non-refundable deposit of U.S. $1,000 in the year of deferral and an additional deposit of U.S. $1,000 in the year that the candidate attends.

TUITION AND COSTS

Kellogg is committed to enrolling qualified students, independent of financial need. Approximately 72 percent of current students receive financial aid.

FINANCIAL AID INFORMATION

Educational loans and scholarships are available to all students. Eligibility for most scholarships is based on financial need, merit and availability of funds.

The Kellogg Office of Financial Aid will begin making provisional financial aid decisions by late February. Awards will be made continuously for admitted candidates whose required forms have been received by our office. Financial aid for all admitted JD-MBA students is processed through the School of Law. All admitted students must complete the steps outlined after Jan. 1, 2008. Please visit law.northwestern.edu/admissions/tuitionaid/aid/instructions.html for more information.

KELLOGG MERIT/NEED-BASED SCHOLARSHIP GRANTS

Grant awards are offered in combination with low-interest educational loans to U.S. citizens and permanent residents. Two-Year MBA and MMM applicants applying for admission during the first two decision periods are more likely to receive assistance. Because One-Year students complete their program in a 12-month period and thus spend less on tuition and forego less work income, they are not eligible to receive grant and scholarship funds.

Several corporate-sponsored and endowed scholarships are available to Two-Year MBA and MMM students. The Kellogg Scholarship Application is the only required application form unless otherwise noted. This policy minimizes the time and effort required to complete the financial aid process. Please note that all scholarships awarded through Kellogg will replace any previously awarded Kellogg grant before loan assistance. Teaching assistantships are not available.

F.C. AUSTIN SCHOLARSHIPS

The prestigious F.C. Austin scholarship is awarded to 20 outstanding men and women admitted to the Two-Year and MMM programs who are preparing for management careers. Established in 1929 by Frederick C. Austin, these scholarships are granted on the basis of merit and cover approximately half the tuition for each academic year. Austin Scholars have demonstrated exceptional leadership in their academic and professional endeavors, showing promise of future leadership at Kellogg and in business or public service. Recipients are selected on the basis of academic excellence, demonstrated leadership and community service.

PETER L. FRECHETTE SCHOLARSHIP

The Peter L. Frechette Scholarship provides the total tuition for each academic year to an exceptional entering student in the Two-Year MBA Program, based on merit.

DAVID F. AND MARGARET T. GROHNE FAMILY FOUNDATION SCHOLARSHIP

The David F. and Margaret T. Grohne Family Foundation Scholarship provides the total tuition for each academic year to an entering student in the Two-Year MBA Program, based on merit. Preference is given to an incoming student who is a U.S. citizen by birth, has completed a non-business major at an undergraduate institution, and who has demonstrated leadership potential and scholastic achievement.

DONALD P. JACOBS INTERNATIONAL SCHOLARSHIPS

The Jacobs International Scholarships, established by the Dean Emeritus of the Kellogg School, are awarded each year to outstanding international students admitted to the 2Y and MMM Programs. Recipients are awarded $15,000 for each academic year. All admitted international applicants are considered for this merit-based scholarship during the admissions cycle.

FORTÉ FOUNDATION/KELLOGG SCHOLARSHIPS

The Forté Foundation and the Kellogg School offer scholarship opportunities to women pursuing full-time MBA studies at Kellogg. The Admissions Committee considers exceptional women who have been admitted to Kellogg for the Forté Foundation scholarship. The Kellogg Forté scholarship amount is $20,000 per academic year. For more information about the Forté Foundation, visit fortefoundation.org.

KENNETH J. LESTRANGE, SR. SCHOLARSHIP

The Kenneth J. LeStrange, Sr. Scholarship was established to provide financial support for an outstanding incoming student pursuing full-time MBA studies at Kellogg. The recipient of this merit-based scholarship is awarded approximately half of the Kellogg tuition amount for each academic year. No additional application is required.

MITTAL SCHOLARS PROGRAM

Funded by the Mittal Steel Company, the Mittal Scholars Program fosters education in the area of global leadership and management in emerging markets. These scholarships are primarily merit-based awards for incoming students in the full-time 2Y and 1Y MBA and MMM programs who have a background or demonstrated interest and potential for working in an emerging-market country. A committee of Kellogg faculty members and administrators selects the recipients for these scholarships. The scholarship supports approximately half the tuition for each academic year and includes activities exclusively for Mittal scholars. No additional application is required.

DIVERSITY GRANTS AND SCHOLARSHIPS

A grant and scholarship program to attract diverse students to our student body is sponsored by the Kellogg School and a number of corporations and foundations. Among the corporate-sponsored scholarships available are the Citigroup, Exxon, Goldman Sachs, Morgan Stanley and Toigo Foundation Fellowships. These awards are presented to students that demonstrate academic excellence, career advancement and leadership ability. Some scholarships require the student to demonstrate financial need.

ENDOWED AND ANNUAL SCHOLARSHIPS

The Kellogg School administers more than 95 corporate- or individually funded scholarships. These funds provide crucial financial support to many of our students.

LOANS

Applicants for financial assistance are expected to have the confidence and the willingness to invest part of their future earning capacity through educational borrowing. There are several educational loan programs available to Kellogg students: the Federal Stafford Loan (both subsidized and unsubsidized), the Perkins Loan and the Northwestern University Loan. Most loans are awarded based upon financial need. For more information, visit studentloans.northwestern.edu.

APPLYING FOR FINANCIAL AID

To be considered for financial assistance, all admitted students must complete the following, but not before Jan. 1, 2008:

All admitted students who are U.S. citizens and permanent residents must submit a completed 2008-2009 Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA). The FAFSA requires the applicant's 2007 tax information. Estimates are acceptable, but must be revised with a completed tax return. Kellogg does not require parental information on FAFSA.

Apply online at fafsa.ed.gov.
The FAFSA code for Kellogg is 001739.

After the FAFSA has been processed, the Department of Education will send the applicant a copy of the Student Aid Report (SAR). The Financial Aid Office will receive a copy of the applicant's processed application only if the applicant puts the Kellogg Code on the FAFSA.

Other Required Documents

In addition to the FAFSA (for U.S. citizens and permanent residents) all students requesting financial aid will need to submit the following documents.

1. 2008-2009 Kellogg Application for Financial Aid. A copy of this application will be online.
2. A signed copy of the applicant's 2007 Tax Return or an income statement from their employer.
