

Stacey was a principal of Geneva Investment Management of Chicago (Geneva) from January 2004 to January 2007 where she along with three other portfolio managers invested for all of the long only equity based strategies at Geneva. Prior to that, Stacey was a principal at William Blair & Company where she was an analyst in the Investment Management Group. She was a co-portfolio manager of Blair's Millennium Fund, a global technology and biotechnology fund. She received an MBA in Finance and Marketing from Northwestern University's Kellogg School of Management and a BS in industrial Engineering from Northwestern University. She also holds the Chartered Financial Analyst Designation.