

SACKS, specializing in the management of multi-manager investment portfolios, joined Grosvenor, a leader in the alternative investment industry, in 1990 and was named the firm's Managing Partner in 1994. He led the growth, development and institutionalization of the firm from its position as an early participant in a cottage industry to its current position as a leader in the global alternative investment arena. Prior to joining Grosvenor, Sacks spent two years at Harris Associates, L.P.

Sacks is a member of the Economic Club of Chicago and the Chicago Council on Global Affairs, serves as a board member for After School Matters, Nextbook and the Daniel Murphy Scholarship Fund, serves on the Chicago Advisory Committee for Facing History and Ourselves, and is a member of the National Development Committee for the United States Holocaust Memorial Museum.

He Sacks received a bachelor's degree in economics from Tulane University in 1984, a general course certificate from the London School of Economics for work completed in the 1982-83 academic year, a master's in business administration from the Kellogg School of Management in 1988 and a J.D. from Northwestern University School of Law in 1988. He is a member of the Illinois Bar.