

John Schweiger joined S/CRS in November 2006. He currently serves as a Senior Planning Officer. His primary responsibility is to develop, test, and prepare the USG's Interagency Management System (IMS) for Reconstruction and Stabilization. From May to November 2007, Mr. Schweiger was a member of a two person S/CRS team which developed and fielded a whole-of-government provincial planning process for USG efforts in Afghanistan. Prior to S/CRS he worked for USAID Afghanistan as a field officer stationed at the Jalalabad Provincial Reconstruction Team (PRT), an advisor to Regional Command East, and as the Field Operations Manager for USAID's PRT program in Afghanistan. In this latter position, he oversaw the USAID Regional Development Advisors for Regional Commands West, South, and East as well as the USAID Advisor to CJTF-76. He also worked very closely with embassy staff, CFC-A, and NATO/ISAF on PRTs as well as broader civil-military, counter-insurgency, and stability issues. Engaged with USG efforts in Afghanistan since 2003, Mr. Schweiger designed the first interagency pre-deployment training for US PRTs in 2006 and has remained a primary designer for subsequent Afghanistan PRT pre-deployment training. He is the primary author of major portions of the NATO/ISAF PRT Handbook. Prior to working with USAID, Mr. Schweiger served as a Marine Infantry Officer with the 7th Marine Regiment. John holds an MBA from Northwestern University's Kellogg School of Management and a BA in Political Science from the University of Chicago.
