

David M. Wong, CPA

Director, Enterprise Risk Management
CME Group

Mr. Wong is responsible for Enterprise Risk Management (“ERM”) at CME Group. The purpose of the program is to evolve, align, and sustain sound risk management practices across the organization.

Mr. Wong is responsible for developing the organization’s framework and practices for acknowledging and managing risks that could materially impact the organization’s ability to achieve its financial, strategic, and operational objectives. Additionally, he leads the organization’s Risk Management Team which is a cross-functional committee consisting of senior leaders from each CME Group division that meets regularly to identify, discuss, address, and monitor enterprise-relevant risks. Mr. Wong developed and now publishes a quarterly Enterprise Risk Profile Report to communicate and promote a common understanding of the current state of the organization’s most significant risks. Mr. Wong regularly provides updates on this report and the ERM program to CME Group’s Executive Management Team and the Board of Directors.

Before joining CME Group, Mr. Wong was a First Vice President of Risk Management at LaSalle Bank ABN AMRO, where he helped lead the organization’s efforts to develop an ERM program. During this time he also helped lead the development, implementation, and operation of an Operational Risk Management (“ORM”) group with responsibilities for Operational Loss Data, Key Risk Indicators, Risk Self-Assessments, Scenario Analysis and Planning, and calculating Economic Capital for Basel II. Prior to joining LaSalle Bank ABN AMRO, Mr. Wong was a Manager in Deloitte’s Enterprise Risk Services group where he assisted and advised numerous clients on identifying, evaluating, and managing risks across their organizations.

Mr. Wong earned a bachelor’s degree in accountancy from the University of Illinois, an MBA from the Kellogg School of Business at Northwestern University, and a certificate in Strategic Decisions and Risk Management from Stanford University. Mr. Wong continues to stay involved in academia by serving as a Clinical Professor at DePaul University Kellstadt Graduate School of Business’s Center for Strategy, Execution, and Valuation and Strategic Risk Management Lab. He has also served on the faculty of the American Bankers Association Stonier National Graduate School of Banking at the University of Pennsylvania.

CME Group is the world's largest and most diverse derivatives exchange. Building on the heritage of the Chicago Mercantile Exchange, Chicago Board of Trade and New York Mercantile Exchange, CME Group serves the risk management needs of customers around the globe. As an international marketplace, CME Group brings buyers and sellers together on the CME Globex electronic trading platform and on trading floors in Chicago and New York. By acting as the buyer to every seller and the seller to every buyer, CME Clearing virtually eliminates counterparty credit risk. CME Clearing also offers $7 billion in financial safeguards to help mitigate systemic risk, providing the security and confidence market participants need to operate, invest and grow. CME Group offers the widest range of benchmark products available across all major asset classes, including futures and options based on interest rates, equity indexes, foreign exchange, energy, agricultural commodities, metals, and alternative investment products such as weather and real estate. CME Group is listed on NASDAQ under the symbol "CME."