Bars, Clubs and Pubs

Nightlife in Evanston is limited to a small selection of laid-back bars. No super hip nightspots here—you'll have to go to Chicago for that. What Evanston's nightlife does offer however, is the ability to walk into any bar and feel right at home as you are guaranteed to see some, if not a lot of, familiar faces.

Kellogg Student Comments: Unknown to many Kellogg students, located walking distance from Ryan Field. This neighborhood bar is a good post-game or secretive intra-Kellogg date spot.

Kellogg Student Comments: The sometimes overlooked of the two Irish bars in Evanston, typically a great low-key spot to grab a drink under the radar. Live music (Irish and otherwise) adds a little character a couple nights a week.

Kellogg Student Comments: Sometimes called Evanston's "trendiest" bar by people who don't make it to Chicago enough, there is always good beer on tap and a decent showing of Kellogg students. The front and back bars tend to stay mellow ... the middle one has a DJ? Specials: Beer and drink specials nightly, call for details. Add'l Info: DJ every Thursday at 11pm, no cover; occasional live music.

Kellogg Student Comments: If Evanston bar closing rules are too stringent for your taste, catch a cab to the nearest bar in Chicago that stays open well after the last Livin' On A Prayer at the Keg. The crowd at the Deuce is always interesting and as a bonus, they serve Tombstone pizzas.
