

Nonprofit Management and Leadership Programs 2018 Program Fee FAQs

For more than 20 years, Kellogg's Center for Nonprofit Management has provided rigorous, relevant management and leadership education to leaders from across the nonprofit sector. For the first time in our history, program fees will increase for our open enrollment programs in 2018. With this increase, we remain committed to ensuring nonprofit leaders can access our world class executive education programs.

Q: What are your prices for 2018?

Program fees for most of our multi-day programs will range from $1150 to $1300 depending on program length and structure.

Q: Are scholarships still available?

Yes! Scholarships of up to 50% will still be available to support nonprofit leaders whose organizations do not have the financial capacity to afford the full tuition. Please let us know in your application what level of scholarship you will require to attend. We do not want price to prevent you from seeking the learning you need to meet your mission more effectively.

Q: Why are your program fees increasing?

Since 1997, we have continued to increase our standards for academic content and the participant experience while the costs of providing executive programs have increased. As a nonprofit ourselves, our program fees help us continue delivering on our mission of elevating the sector through outstanding executive education programs for nonprofit leaders.

Q: When will the new program fees go into effect?

New program fees will go into effect on January 8, 2018 and will be reflected on our website at that time.

Q: What if I am already registered for a program?

Anyone who has paid before January 8, 2018 will pay the program fee listed at the time they registered. No additional fee will be incurred once paid.

Q: Can I still pay $950 if I register soon?

Yes. Between now and January 8, program fees for most programs remains $950. Click here to find the prices and dates for specific programs of interest.
