

Large Contests

Wojciech Olszewski
Ron Siegel

Northwestern University

May 9, 2013

ABSTRACT

We consider contests with many, possibly heterogeneous, prizes and players that include many existing models as special cases. We show that the outcome of such contests is approximated by an appropriately defined set of incentive-compatible individually-rational single-agent mechanisms.