KEYNOTE SPEAKER

Edith Cooper '86

Global Head of Human Capital Management
Goldman Sachs

Edith is global head of Human Capital Management and is responsible for the recruitment, development and well-being of Goldman Sachs' 35,000 employees. Edith has been an executive vice president of Goldman Sachs since 2011 and has led Human Capital Management since 2008. She is a member of the firm's Management Committee and serves as vice chair of the Partnership Committee.

Previously, Edith held several leadership positions in the Securities Division and was responsible for building and growing client franchises across different products and sectors. Edith has led U.S., European and Asian businesses and has held several global leadership roles. Prior to joining Goldman Sachs, Edith worked at Morgan Stanley and Bankers Trust.

Edith is a LinkedIn Influencer and frequently speaks on the topics of leadership, culture, talent and diversity, and has been profiled and recognized by a number of external organizations including CNN's Leading Women Series, the Sponsors for Educational Opportunity, Crain's Most Powerful Women, American Banker's Most Powerful Women and Black Enterprise Magazine.

Edith serves on the Board of Trustees of the Museum of Modern Art, Mount Sinai Hospital, the Fuqua/Coach K Center on Leadership & Ethics, the President's Council of Howard University, as well as the Northwestern University Board of Trustees. She is also a member of the Board of Directors of Horizons at Brunswick School.

Edith earned an MBA from the Kellogg School of Management at Northwestern University and an AB from Harvard and Radcliffe Colleges.

CONFERRING THE ACADEMIC HOOD

Origins and symbolism

The tradition of conferring the academic hood has a long history. During the twelfth and thirteenth centuries, when universities were evolving in medieval Europe from their ecclesiastical beginnings, the ordinary dress of a scholar was that of a cleric. Inhabiting unheated monastic buildings, students and teachers wore long robes, often with hoods to cover tonsured heads. Over the centuries, academic garb gained educational status and shifted away from its former associations with practical dress. The clothing began to differ in length and color of lining and trim, based on degree, school and faculty, according to university prescription.

In the United States, most academic dress follows the general provisions of the Intercollegiate Code of 1895, as most recently revised in 1959. Under this code, the master's hood is three and one-half feet in length and the doctor's four feet. The velvet border of the hood is three and five inches wide for the master's and doctor's degrees, respectively. The hood is lined with satin in the official color of the school. At Northwestern, the hood is lined in purple (the school's color) with gold chevrons. The color of the hood's border indicates the type of degree being awarded: dark blue velvet is the universal PhD, acorn velvet is the universal MBA.
